

Alarm Users Beware - Don't Fight One Threat By Risking Another!
Inquire Before You Hire!

Why Take A Chance! Use a Licensed Texas Professional!

Individuals may be unlicensed because they may not:

- meet financial requirements.
- be able to pass a background check.
- meet experience requirements.
- meet insurance requirements.

Don't Put Your Life & Property In the Wrong Hands
Be Sure Your Alarm Company Has A License

Protect yourself

The best safeguard against faulty and hazardous work is to make sure the company you hire has a valid license from the Department of Public Safety.

Do NOT accept just a company ID!

Ask to see their license!

Texas Consumers Have Registered Many Complaints, Including:

- Customer unwittingly agreed in contract to pay for fines charged to the unlicensed company and/or lengthy terms.
- Companies claim to represent the customer's existing alarm company, and falsely tell the customer that they need an upgrade. After the customer signs, they become obligated to two companies for the same services.
- Companies claim to offer a "free" system when in reality customers are committing to an extended contract that has a built in fee for the equipment.
- Accounts are sold to another company preventing the customer from getting proper service.

Unlicensed Alarm Companies Pose a Threat to You.

- They Cost You Money.
- They Often Defraud & Exploit You.
- You Can Be Liable for Damages & Injuries On The Job.
- They Do Substandard Work.
- They Fail To Meet Texas State & Local Standards.
- They Do Not Play By The Rules.

Help prevent these problems for yourself and others by reporting unlicensed companies and individuals.
